Rain in Streaks.

The rains the past few days have een decidedly local, judging from the reports from various sections of the received more than a bounteous share of the falling drops, but in other localities the rains have traveled in streaks. A gentleman from near the past two weeks, there had not been enough rain to hinder the farmers from working corn. In other parts of been so moist that the corn could not be cultivated and the showers followed by warm sunshine have added greatly to the growth of the weeds.

Carrier William Buck, of the Rural Delivery service, says that he stood on a hill several miles above the city yesterday, where he could see a long distance in every direction. A half mile to the west the sun was shining and a force of men were at work cutting wheat, while the same distance to the eastward, the rain was falling in tor-

Important Railroad Change.

After July 1 what is now the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern Railroad will be known as the southwestern division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. At least orders received at the local office give rise to that belief. These orders are to the effect that after that date all remittances, etc., must be made to the offices of the auditor and treasurer at Baltimore, Md., instead of at Cincinnati. The Cincinnati offices of auditor and treasurer will be discontinued, but Supt. Rawn, who is retained, will still keep his office in Cincinnati.

It is hoped that under the new arrangement changes will be made in the system which will put Marieta on through line from St. Louis and Cinnati to the east.

'Old Horse" Sale at Parkersburg.

The "Old Horse" sale, which means in accumulation of unclaimed express packages at the U.S. Express office. was held today on Fifth street, and was attended by several hundred people, with Capt. A. K. Leonard as salesman. It was a case of buying a pig in a poke, as no one knew the contents of the packages they were buying and there some rather amusing episodes. Mr. Chapin, of the U. S. Oil Co., bought a package in which he found a negro doll baby carefully packed and wrapped. A prominent gambler got a package of religious tracts, while a business man invested in a package of last year's show bills. Some of the packages contained articles of value, one box of stone engravers tools, worth $100 sold for $4.50. The bidding was riage at the bride's home on Third spirited and there was a great deal of curosity to see the contents of the by Rev. H. Herzer, pastor of the Ger- packages when they were opened .-

Wednesday the case of the Murdock West Company against S. B. Logan et al was taken up. The plaintiffs seek operating for oil on a certain farm in Palmer township on the grounds that defendant's lease is no longer in force. Sykes & Middleswart and T. H. Mc-Conica represent the plaintiff and A. D. Fellett, L. W. Ellenwood and J. A. Ivers are attorneys for the defendants. A hard fight is being made and it is probable that the hearing will continie over today.
